

Latécoère on board at L'Avion des Métiers at the 2019 Paris International Air Show

Toulouse, 12 June 2019 – Latécoère, a tier 1 partner to major international aircraft manufacturers and member of the GIFAS, will attend the latest edition of “L'Avion des Métiers,” a space of 3,000m² dedicated to careers in the aeronautical industry at the 2019 Paris International Air Show. It is in this setting that a team of recruiters will present the career opportunities available within the Group.

In view of recently won contracts, certain profiles will be particularly targeted: support functions such as Purchasing, Studies (relating to approaches towards innovation and expertise in customer services), Supply Chain, Manufacturing Engineering and positions for experienced cable operators and fitters.

Attending “L'Avion des Métiers” will allow Latécoère to expand its recruitment outreach, which is usually focussed in Occitania region, by seeking experienced and mobile talents with expertise in niche areas of the aeronautical industry at the Paris Air Show.

Hervé Blanchard, Director of Human Resources at Latécoère, says: “We are delighted to attend the latest edition of “L'Avion des Métiers”, where we have not had a presence for a few years now. We hope to use this opportunity to showcase the transformation of the Latécoère group. Not only do we contribute to the performance of current major programmes, we are also at the cutting edge of innovative technology such as LiFi or agile door design. We need talent, now more than ever, to write the next page in our history.”
